

Educational Opportunities for Radiologic Technologists

Radiation Therapy Programs

- ARRT (Guide for primary pathway eligibility): <https://www.arrt.org/pages/earn-arrt-credentials/credential-options/radiation-therapy>
- City of Hope: <https://www.cityofhope.org/education/health-professional-education/school-of-radiation-therapy>
 - 1 year certificate Program
 - Cost of $15,000
 - Contact: Jerrica Tseng (Program Director): jtseng@coh.org
- Loma Linda University: (ARRT-certified) <https://alliedhealth.llu.edu/academics/radiation-technology/degree-options-radiation-technology/bachelor-science-radiation-therapy>
 - Also, a non-ARRT option
 - Program length of 21 months
 - Contact: Carol Davis (Program Director): cadavis@llu.edu
 - Free online information session required for all applicants (click link on website for dates)
- Loma Linda University (Medical Dosimetry): <https://home.llu.edu/programs/medical-dosimetry-med-dosimetryrad-therapy-trac-cert>
 - Certificate program
 - Length of program: 5 quarters
 - Minimum 2 years postgraduate experience as radiation therapist and bachelor's degree
 - Estimated cost (2 years):$30,000
 - Can click on "Request Info" link on webpage for more program specific information
- National University (Costa Mesa Campus): <https://www.nu.edu/ourprograms/college-of-professional-studies/healthsciences/programs/bsrt/>
 - Bachelor's degree program
 - Estimated total costs of program (2 years): $27,000
 - Online/on-campus options with monthly starts and accelerated classes
 - Can click on "Contact Us" link to ask for more program-specific information
 - Contact: Cheryl Young (Program Director): cyoung2@nu.edu
- John Patrick University of Health and Applied Sciences (Certificate in Proton Therapy): <https://jpu.edu/proton-therapy-certificate/>

- Program length: 2 semesters
- Distance Education program
- Must be ARRT-certified in Radiation Therapy
- Estimated program cost: $9,600
- Can click on “click here” link on webpage to request more program-specific information