

The Citadel

Call for Submissions—2023

General Guidelines for all Submissions:

Submit online only by emailing your submissions to thecitadellacc@gmail.com.

Include a cover letter in your email that specifies title(s) of all submitted work(s), the author's name, address, telephone number, email, and Student ID # if applicable. This information may be stated in the email itself.

Submissions are free for LACC students; $5 reading fee to the LACC Foundation for all others. To pay the reading fee, visit www.laccfoundation.org and go to Donate. Look for "The Citadel" in the "Designation" drop-down menu and make your $5 donation. A PDF showing proof of payment/donation to the LACC Foundation is required for all submissions.

LACC students for whom the reading fee is waived must submit a pdf or image of their class schedule proving that they were enrolled for Summer or Fall 2022 or are enrolled for Spring 2023. Students are also required to provide a scan of their Student ID card. Names on the schedule and Student ID must match.

Anyone who does not follow the above submission guidelines is subject to disqualification.

Guidelines and Rules for Prose Submissions:

No previously published work, including self-published work, may be submitted.

Work should be no longer than 15 double-spaced pages. We are open to many genres, including personal essays, but do not accept screenplays or plays. You may submit a separate piece for Fiction and Non-Fiction, but each would be considered a separate submission and thus require two reading fees.

Guidelines and Rules for Poetry Submissions:

No previously published work, including self-published work, may be submitted.

Poems should be no longer than 10 double-spaced pages.

There are no restrictions on the style or genre of the poem(s).

Limit of three poems per entrant.
